Vulcan Logic custom programming services: When off-the-shelf applications aren't enough

In today's marketplace, custom programming is not a luxury, it's often a necessity. Every business is unique with individual needs of its own. If your specific needs aren't met by your current off-the-shelf solution, your business will suffer.

Every company has one or more processes that could be improved by using properly designed software. Instead, these processes are carried out using paper, card files, a spreadsheet, or some other equally inefficient method. Chances are, you can think of at least one example of this in your company. Why does this happen?

- Maybe your off-the-shelf application is improperly set up to handle your needs.
- You have changed or added workflow which your current application cannot support.
- Perhaps there isn't an off-the-shelf solution that will meet your requirements. What you need then is a custom software solution that will meet your every need.

Count on Vulcan Logic for custom application development

At Vulcan Logic, we build customized software solutions designed to help you increase productivity, accuracy, and accomplish more in less time. From customizing an off-the-shelf application to writing the entire system from the ground up, we can help you build a solution that will allow you to run your business most effectively.

Turnkey Solutions For Your Business

Since no two businesses are alike, and the needs of any business evolve over time, Vulcan Logic offers solutions that can evolve with the needs of the client¹:

- Microsoft® Office solutions, using any or all programs in the Office XP collection, for businesses of any size
- Solutions based on the popular QuickBooks® accounting package from Intuit, for the small business with straightforward requirements and few customization needs
- Solutions based on OPEN SYSTEMS® Accounting Software, for the larger business with more diverse accounting and back-office needs
- Fully customized solutions tailored specifically to the needs of the business, for those businesses whose operations simply cannot fit into the "mold" of traditional accounting packages
- Business BASIC solutions and services, for businesses with existing Business BASIC (BBx®, PRO/5®, VPRO/5®, BBj®) systems who need to maintain or enhance their software

Vulcan Logic can provide the resources you need to enhance, support or replace your existing business application system. We offer a wide variety of services and products to help enhance your business and your bottom line. We at Vulcan Logic strive to be your one-stop computing solutions center™.
